ROOFS.

Correspondence invited. Agents wanted.

Roofs. Why not make your roofs last a lifetime, and save the expense of a new roof every ten or lifteen years. It can be done; if you use slate paint it will not only resist the effects of water and wind, but shield you from fire.

OLD ROOFS.

I rotect your buildings by using slate paint, which neither cracks in winter nor runs in summer. Old shingle roofs can be painted, looking much better and lasting longer than new shingles without the paint, for one-fourth the cost of re-shingling. On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and porcs, and gives a new, substantial roof that lasts for years. Curled or warped shingles it brings to their places, and keeps them there. This paint requires no heating; is applied with a brush, and very ornamental. It is chocolate-color when first applied, but changes to a miform slate-color, and is to all intents and purposes slate. purposes slate.

ON TIN OR IRON ROOFS the red color is the best paint in the world for durability. It has a heavy body, is easily applied, expands by heat, contracts by cold, dries slow, and r cracks nor scales. One coat equals four of any POLITICAL.

POLITICAL NEWS FROM THE WEST-A PUDDIN'-TICKET TRIAL.—In the club-room a dispatch was bulletined from Colonel Frederick Raine, of Baltimore, who is stumping in Ohio, in which he expressed confidence of the success of the Democratic Buckeyes next week. A dispatch from Denver, Col., claimed the election of the Democratic candidates for Governor and Congress. Colonel Harry McCoy received a dispatch from the Chicago Times late in the evening as follows: "Our latest Denver telegrams say returns show considerable reductions in the first-reported Republican majorities. In Conejos they fall from 400 to 70; Boulder, from 600 to 350; Costella, from 350 to 75. Nineteen counties give only 440 Republican majority. All counties now to hear from are Democratic." It is claimed by Democrats that the Republican side of the Colorado election is furnished by the Associated

The following is a programme of number of the Indiana State Central Committee in the art and mystery of the Baltimore "puddin' ticket." A little experimental election was improvised for illustration of the black art. A cigar-box represented the ballot-box. A custom-house official from Baltimore acted as judge and receiver. Seven Maryland experts voted, and to the Hoosiers, who are as smart as the smartest, everything seemed perfectly fair and as clear as daylight, but on opening the box it was found the seven voters had deposited thirty-five ballots. The Indiana committeeman was surprised and delighted with the new revelation, and it is possible "the puddin'" ticket may figure on the prairies this fall .- Baltimore Sun, 7th.

POLITICAL POOL-SELLING .- Considerable money was invested last evening at Morrissey's rooms, on Broadway, on the results of the coming elections. For President Hayes had the call, he selling for $500 to Tilden for $300. For Governor of Indiana Williams (Democrat) sold for $500 to Harrison (Republican) for $350. > COLORADO. - Seventeen out of the twentysix counties cannot possibly be heard from in less than from eleven to twelve days, there being no telegraphic communication. You may rest assured that the dispatches sent are intended to deceive, as the State has undoubtedly gone Democratic by from three to four thousand. Mr. J. C. Wilson, the sender of the dispatches, is Grant's revenue collector, and Republican drillmaster of the State. He has simply sent the dispatches for buncombe to influence the elections in Ohio and Indiana. O. G. GOLDRICK,

AN OUTSPOKEN OPINION OF THE AMEND-MENTS.—There are several important amendments to the Constitution to be voted on at the November election in this State. One, and perhaps two, of these amendments would be beneficial if made the law of the State; but as a whole—and as such they must be either adopted or rejected—we be-creditable to her. GOOD NEWS FROM INDIANA .- Hons. David Kalfus, of Pennsylvania, and E. S. Cleveland, of Connecticut, arrived in the city vesterday from a ten-days' stumping tour in Indiana for Tilden and Hendricks through the counties of Gibson, Pike, Dubois, Spencer, Perry, and Crawford. They report large gains, and feel assured that Tilden and Hendricks will carry the State overwhelmingly. They say the German element is largely for Tilden, Hendricks, and reform .- Louisville Courier, 5th.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE WHISKEY CASES-JOHNSON FOUND GUILTY.-In the United States Circuit Court on Saturday the trial of J. C. Johnson, formerly United States gauger at Petersburg, charged with making false certificates of transactions at M. & E. Myers's distillery, was concluded, and accused found guilty. To the same jury was referred the cases of two or three other indictments of a similar character, and to these he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to be imprisoned n the city jail of Petersburg for six months, and to pay a fine of $1,000. In pronouncing sentence on Johnson Judge Bond said that he would make it as light as possible, inasmuch as there was no proof of corruption or evil intention in the acts committed. Those who have read anything about the Myers case will remember that Johnson certified to seeing high-wines emptied and stamps cancelled, when such was really not the case. His neglect was in not seeing personally that these things were done and in certifying to things as being done which were never done.

The following jury was impanelled to try E. Myers for defrauding the Government of revenues as a distiller: Messrs. R. H. Talley, P. Keenan, J. J. Foster, C. Burton, Emmett Crump, D. D. Bliss, J. H. THE LASE JAMES H. BINFORD.

MEETING OF PUBLIC-SCHOOL PRINCIPALS AND TEACHERS SATURDAY-TRIBUTES

At a general meeting of the principals and teachers of the Richmond public schools held on Saturday last at 10 A. M. at the High-School Messrs. W. B. McGilvray, W. F. Fox, and J. H. Peay, Jr., a special committee appointed at a previous meet-ing to prepare a suitable tribute of respect to the memory of J. H. Binford, late Superintendent of Schools, submitted the following:

No man knoweth the time of his going. and no man knoweth when his work shall cease; whether the shadow shall fall on his footprints at noon or linger on his path till evening come. The place of toil, the wayside rest, the health-giving fountains fail-honors cannot stay, unfinished plans cannot delay-nor love, nor friends restrain-the shadow. It follows all! And we again have felt its near approach—how near! Our head, our guide and leader, is gone. We feel the loss, and would unite our sorrows in this simple tribute, which can find no suitable form for its expression.

The life which was so well wrought in Lyon. The hearing of the evidence will no the short period of his public career, gave large promise of more abundant yield. But the confident expectation of his associates, the high hopes of his friends, and the public service of his native city, have alike felt the shock; for the shadow fell ere his life had reached its noon. But the work to which he committed his energies remains as the legacy of the life it consumed, and the public schools of our city will for years to come preserve the impulse of his directing hand.

A sense of our mutual loss prompts the hope that this tribute of respect for the memory of our late Superintendent may be an assurance to his family and friends that we deeply sympathize with them in the great sorrow that has darkened their homestead.

On motion of Mr. E. W. Cone the report was unanimously adopted. After which, Mr. W. F. Fox, in reference to the life and character of the deceased, spoke as follows: We all deeply feel the great loss that we have sustained. Let us improve this occasion to call up some of the characteristics of him who has gone. The supreme moving motive-the controlling principle of his life-was the interests of the public schools. They seemed ever present to his mind. No matter where, no matter when, the schools were uppermost in his thoughts. All else was subservient to them. Health, private interests, pleasure, were all sacrificed to their advancement. All else was made tributary to their improvement. He never went into any assembly or into the company of any teachers that he did not constantly ask how can I use this for the benefit of my schools. He never read a book or a periodical that he did not cull out, if possible, some thought which could be made advantageous to them. He was characterized by a high sense of duty. In his official relations he knew no was engaged on Saturday in the transaction auction and in mutual pools until the electronial Stakes expressed by quoting a sentiment of his J. Into the privacy of the domestic circle we may not enter; but the characteristics of his home life may be briefly expressed in the words of one intimate in his family, "Oh, he made his home so happy."

Let us sympathize with the living; let us emulate his virtues and most truly honor his memory by bringing up to his ideal the system which he so successfully inaugurated. Mr. McGilvray concluded with a few appropriate remarks, setting forth the high ideal which Mr. Binford had set before the corps, and his happy facility in working up his teachers to this standard.

On motion it was resolved to send a copy of the above to his family, and to ask the School Board to have the same spread upon its records. After the adoption of this tribute Mr. Peay stated that it being the purpose of the principals and teachers to erect an appropriate monument to the memory of the late Superintendent, permission is granted the teachers to rcceive collections from those scholars in their respective schools who may desire to participate in this mark of respect, the teachers to report the sums collected at their meeting to be held 1st November next.

MANCHESTER NEWS.

Saturday evening always presents a lively appearance for Manchester, and last Satur-HUSTINGS COURT.—The Hustings Court day was not an exception to this general rule. Men of business, wearied with their week's work, walked briskly homeward, POLICE COURT, SATURDAY-Justice Joseph | flushed with the anticipation of the rest that ored) was charged with stealing, and honest laborer and son of toil laughed and Thomas Fitzpatrick (white) with receiving, chattered gaily, while his muscles relaxed 5,000 new and old paving-bricks belonging and in the very thought that he had a day quence the markets were unusually brisk.

> Retail Market Prices .- Prices ruled reasonably and the housewives and paterfamilias found abundant stores with which to supply the home larder. Beef sold at from 10 to 15 cents per pound; pork 121 cents per pound; sausage 12½ cents per pound. Veal was not to be found in the market, so that Mr. Weller's "weal pie" had to be dispensed with. Vegetables were in good demand and moderately plentiful. Cabbages sold at from 3 to 15 cents per head; Irish potatoes from 35 to 40 cents per peck; sweet potatoes 15 to 20 cents per peck; tomatoes 5 to 9 cents per quart; turnips 3 to 5c. per bunch; peas, 10c. per quart. No butter-beans in market. Apples were sold readily at from 15 to 20c. per peck.
> Eggs were plentiful at from 22 to 25c, per dozen. The fish market was better supplied than it has been for some time past, and the finny tribe sold well. Spots sold at 25cf per bunch; perch at from 20 to 25c. per bunch; tront 20c starge fish 20 to plentiful and of excellent quality. They per bunch; trout, 20c.; large fish, 20 to FDUCATION 25c. per pound.

School Board.-The School Board will meet on to-morrow evening for the transaction of important business. Rev. Mr. Campbell, president of the Board, will be present, as also will be B. A. Hancock, Esq., Superintendent of Public Schools.

New Lamps for the City .- A sample of new style of lamp was exhibited at the poice station-house Saturday, and the Committee on Light will take the matter under advisement at an early day. Vacancies in the School Board .- There will be two vacancies to be filled at the next meeting of the School Board—viz., those in principals.

See circulars in bookstores, and communicate with principals. place of Mr. W. W. Pool, elected to Council, and F. M. Latham, declined to serve.

Charity and Politics Mixed .- A subscrip tion was started on Saturday (for the benefit of the Savannah sufferers) at the Westham Granite-Works. It had the peculiar feature of being mixed up with the politics of the day, as much so as if the dispersion of the terrible plague depended upon the election of Hayes and Wheeler. The subscription was asked under the following conditions: lican fund of the Third and Fourth congressional districts, and twenty per cent. to go to the Savannah sufferers. It may help the latter class to know that the honest, brawny stone-cutters couldn't see a charitable contribution in such a "mixed lamp," as Artemus Ward would say.
